

April 14, 2010

From the very beginning of our project we had the desire to make our children's ministry area something that would be stimulating and attractive for all ages.

We were hoping that whomever would do our project would be able to capture what our staff had in mind.

We began our search for someone to take the pictures in our minds put them on paper and finally put them on the walls for us. In our search we discovered Creative for kids.

I made contact with Randy and I knew immediately that this was the man for the job. The initial contact revealed a man that genuinely has a desire to serve his clients and most importantly has a desire to reach not only children but parents with the message of Jesus.

Working with Randy from the initial contact as he explained the process for our project was very educating, professional and personal. He walked us through the design process explaining very well what we were to do and what he would be doing. He also educated us on how best to use our ideas to make the end result appealing to the children and the parents.

We were also very pleased on how he explained and worked with us through the cost process of our project.

During the project Randy was very open and approachable as we chose to make some minor changes as the project was in progress. The end result of the project is incredible and was done in a very timely manner and we are more than completely satisfied

I would highly recommend Randy Triplett-"Creative for Kids" if you are considering this type of project for your church.

Jim Orate

Senior Pastor/Calvary Chapel of Rancho Cucamonga Ca.